FLAGS FOR SCHOOLS.

The Misseuri Legislature Passes a Bill to Place a Flag Over Every Public

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 14, 1895.- A fight was made for the passage of a bill for the raising of the American flag over the public schools in the state of Missouri, which set some of the Democrats of the house in a great uproar. The bill was passed by the Republicans, assisted by some Democrats. The Democratic leaders made all the fight that was possible, calling for the ayes and mays on every necessary question to pass the bill, and were defeated

The bill will go to the senate for its concurrence therein. Flags were placed on small staffs on the desks of many members after the bill was carried, and were greeted with loud cheers. The bill reads as follows:

"An act to provide for the floating of our national fisg over public school houses on school days:

"SECTION I. It shall be the duty of the board of directors in each school district in the state of Missouri now organized, or which may hereafter be organized in said state, to provide for the use of their school district, a saitable rational flag for the use of said school district.

"SEC. 2. The clerk of each board of directors of each school district shall take charge of and keep said flag during vacation of school in their district, but said clerk of board of directors shall deliver said flag to the teacher or principal of the school of his district on the first day of each term of school.

"SEC. 3. It shall be the duty of the teacher or principal of each school in every district in the state of Missouri to raise, or cause to be raised, over each school house the national flag, as provided by the board of directors of the district, and to cause same to remain raised during each fair, clement school day of said school.

SEC. 4. The expenses incurred in making, repairing and raising of said national flag in each school district shall be paid out of the incidental expense fund of said district, in same manner as all other incidental expenses.

SEC. 5. Any board of directors, principal or teacher, or any one who shall fail to comply with the provisions of the above section, shall be decmed guilty of a misdemeaner, and shall, speak the English language. - Ex. upon conviction, be fined in a sum not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than one hundred dollars, and by imprisonment in the county jail for a term not less than 20 days nor more than six months; said fines, when collected, shall be paid into the incidental school funds of district where the misdemeanor oc-

SEC. 6. All acts and parts of acts in consistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

Sweet Charity.

We read in the Converted Cotholic, which is edited by an ex-priest, that "no priest will ever say mass for a soul The man has been a priest, and should know the methods of the priests. If they are, as a church, charitable to the living, why are they not charitable to the same people after they are dead? Are we compelled to look upon the scheme as a purely money-making dodge? If it is a method of making money, and it is all a farce, can the clergy of the church give a sati-factory answer as to why they can be permitted to do it on any other ground than that the 'end justifies the means." Priest McCarthy, who has been referred to as calling the Jesuits "the block coated villains," in answering a statement made by an Omahs minister; said the minister could not show him any rule or law in the authorized Roman Cathofic works which cause any one to say that the Roman Cathelic church be Heves that "the end justifies the means." If they were to have this as a doctrine in their church, the church would be considered as having a lack of good judgment, but without it, the deeds of the said church, the purgatory "racket" being one, causes but one in ference, that they are the serfs of Satan serving in the semblance of the saints. IRELAND.

Do you know of any Roman Catholic Do you know of any. Roman Catholic society which is sending aid to the destitute Roman Catholics in the west? I am informed that one Roman Catholic was burning his fence posts to keep his family warm, and that a Protestant gave him a small amount of money and a personal order for coal. I have heard of no philanthropic movement among the Roman Catholics to aid their people. Probably they are perfectly contented to have the things managed by the state, and therefore take a burden from their hands.

There are some people who are from their hands. There are some people who are afraid of injustice, if the respective deafraid of injustice, if the respective denominations send to their own people, and must have everything run through a "common mill." It is truly a fact that this is done. If there is any denomination which is too poor or too mean to send anything to the poor, they would, by the state arrangement, be materially aided, and then they could use their money to build fine churches and cathedrals, and also have money
